FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

USD School of Education Joined by Specialist in Leadership

The University of San Diego's School of Education has appointed to its faculty in the graduate program in educational leadership Dr. William P. Foster, who will join the School as assistant professor.

A doctoral graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, Foster has been with the University of Delaware as assistant professor and coordinator of the master's program in educational leadership. His background also includes work in the Pacific islands as program specialist with the U.S. Department of Education, elementary level teaching at schools in Berkeley, California, and the teaching of English as a second language while serving in the Peace Corps.

Foster was a Ford Foundation Fellow at the University of Pennsylvania from 1973 to 1975 and in 1979-1980 received honorable mention in the Excellence in Graduate Teaching Award. He is a member of Phi Delta Kappa, the American Educational Research Association, and numerous other professional organizations.
